E. Tender Offer - CTG

As a result of the release by China Three Gorges (Europe) S.A. ("CTG") of a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and voluntary tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP, and a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and mandatory tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP Renováveis, S.A.:

- i. the following text is to be added in the "Risk Factors" section on page 39 of the Base Prospectus, in the paragraph entitled "Business Risks", after the sub-paragraph entitled "EDP's cash flow is subject to possible changes in the amounts and timings of the recovery of the regulatory receivables from the energy systems":

"EDP may in the future be subject to a change of control.

Being the issuer of shares listed in a stock exchange, EDP may be the subject of a tender offer or the subject of any transaction resulting in one or more entities acquiring control of the majority of voting rights in EDP.

On 11 May 2018, China Three Gorges (Europe) S.A. ("CTG") released a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and voluntary tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP (the "EDP Tender Offer" or "Offer") and a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and mandatory tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP Renováveis. These announcements were amended in accordance with the terms of the addenda published on 16 May 2018.

On 1 June 2018, EDP received a draft prospectus from CTG setting out the terms and conditions of the EDP Tender Offer (the "Draft Prospectus"). Following an analysis of the Draft Prospectus, on 9 June 2018, EDP published the report (the "EBD Report") of the Executive Board of Directors of EDP (the "EBD"). In the EBD Report, the EBD noted that its view was that the price offered does not adequately reflect the value of EDP and that the implied offer premium is low considering what is customary for European utilities where the offerors have acquired control. Therefore, the EBD cannot recommend that EDP's shareholders tender their shares at the alluded cash consideration of €3.26 per share.

In the event of a successful tender offer or other event resulting in one or more entities obtaining control over the voting rights of EDP, EDP and EDP B.V. may be subject to a change of control. Even if the change of control provisions contained in Condition 7.5 apply to the Instruments, it may not necessarily afford holders of such Instruments protection as they would not have the right to require the Issuer to redeem the Instruments unless such change of control was also accompanied by a Rating Downgrade during the Change of Control period (each as defined herein). See "Terms and Conditions of the Instruments – Redemption and Purchase – Redemption at the option of the Holders (Investor Put on Change of Control)".

In addition, upon completion of a change of control, a majority shareholder may have, directly or indirectly, the power to affect, among other things, the capital structure and the day-to-day operations of EDP and EDP B.V., as well as the ability to elect and change the management of EDP and EDP B.V. and the ability to approve other changes to the operations and strategies of EDP and EDP B.V., in each case, without the consent of holders of the Instruments.

The EDP and EDP B.V. cannot foresee at this stage if a change of control will indeed occur and, if it does occur, if any consequences of any such change of control will adversely impact the interests of holders of the Instruments. For further information in respect of the tender offers by CTG, see "Recent Developments – CTG Offers"; and

- ii. the following text is to be added in the "EDP and the EDP Group" section on page 187 of the Base Prospectus, after the paragraph entitled "Conflicts of Interest" and after the new paragraph entitled "Recent Developments – Appointments" referred to at paragraph D(i) of this Supplement:

"Recent Developments – CTG Offers

On 11 May 2018, China Three Gorges (Europe) S.A. ("CTG") released a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and voluntary tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP (the "EDP Tender Offer" or "Offer") and a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and mandatory tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP Renováveis, S.A. (and subsequently amended on 16 May 2018).

On 1 June 2018, EDP received a draft prospectus from CTG setting out the terms and conditions of the EDP Tender Offer (the "Draft Prospectus"). CTG offered a cash consideration of €3.26 per share (to be reduced by any future gross amount that is attributed to each share, whether as dividend, advance for account of profit or distribution of reserves).

Following an analysis of the Draft Prospectus, on 9 June 2018 EDP published the report (the "EBD Report") of the Executive Board of Directors of EDP (the "EBD") under the terms of number 1 of article 181 of the Portuguese Securities Code. In the EBD Report, the EBD noted that its view was that the price offered does not adequately reflect the value of EDP and that the implied offer premium is low considering what is customary for European utilities where the offerors have acquired control. Therefore, the EBD has stated it cannot recommend that EDP's shareholders tender their shares at the alluded cash consideration of €3.26 per share.

The EBD further noted that there are merits in the strategic intentions of CTG. Given the uncertainties regarding the implementation of the plan and the potential impact on EDP, the EBD will seek additional information from CTG in order to be in a position to form a more considered view regarding the value of the project.

In the EBD Report, the EBD noted that CTG had expressed an intention to increase its strategic commitment to EDP and to ensure that EDP remains a relevant player in the sector. CTG's plan for EDP consists of five main pillars that include intentions regarding identity, efficiency and growth, financial profile, asset contributions and optionality in Chinese wind offshore. In its report, the EBD noted the merit of CTG's intention to:

- preserve EDP's Portuguese identity and autonomous decision-making based on the highest, international corporate governance standards, while maintaining the group's presence in the geographies in which it is currently present and is a reference player, and retaining EDP's listed status with significant liquidity and free float;
- focus on assets with a stable cash flow profile, with a view to maintaining a low-risk and diversified business profile, and position EDP to lead the operations and growth of CTG Group in Europe, the Americas and the group of Portuguese-speaking African countries, as well as selected Asian markets;
- reinforce EDP's financial profile by committing to maintain the leverage reduction trend at EDP level and ensure at least an investment grade rating, while aiming to retain flexibility to pursue growth and maintain a stable dividend pay-out policy with dividend pay-out not below what has been disclosed by EDP;
- potentially contribute long-term contracted existing assets of CTG Group in geographies where there is market overlap with EDP, pursuant to a framework agreement with the EDP. These include controlled hydro assets in Brazil (capacity of 8GW), jointly held stakes with EDP in three hydro assets in Brazil (gross capacity of 1.3GW), minority stakes of 49% in eleven wind farms in Brazil controlled by EDP (gross capacity of 0.3GW), a majority shareholding of 80% in a wind offshore project in Germany (gross capacity of 0.3GW) and a 49% shareholding in EDPR Portugal (gross capacity of 0.6GW); and

- create growth optionality by facilitating the entrance into China's offshore wind market, where the CTG intends to play an active role. This asset class is consistent with the current strategic focus of EDP and could provide for a new additional development platform.

The EBD noted the merits of the above described intentions depend on their implementation model, which is not clear at this stage. More specifically, at this stage, the visibility on the options, the actionability of the intentions and the potential impact in the risk-return profile of the company are still limited. Hence, the EBD requires more information in order to form a considered view.

In particular, regarding the asset contribution intentions, the limited level of detail of the CTG's proposal, namely their implementation mechanism, capital structure and timeframe, raises a number of questions which cannot be appropriately addressed by the EBD based on the information currently available. However, it is positive that some general principles for these transactions are outlined, including complying with the investment criteria applicable to similar type of investments currently pursued by EDP, ensuring the transactions are arms-length assessed based on standard practices for this type of transactions and approved by the competent corporate bodies of EDP.

The EBD made a note that that the contribution of sizeable Brazilian assets contemplated by CTG would lead to a significant increase in the relative contribution from Latin America to EDP's overall portfolio and therefore materially alter its business risk and return profile.

The EBD stated that it welcomes CTG's intentions to regulate the potential asset contribution through a framework agreement, and would expect CTG to provide similar safeguards in relation to its other intentions, namely identity, corporate governance, financial strategy and dividend policy, and new markets such as the Chinese wind offshore.

The EBD also stated that there are additional items related to the Offer that should be clarified ahead of shareholders' decision milestones, namely the Offer effectiveness condition to obtain 50% plus 1 of the voting rights of EDP, corporate governance, assumption regarding the obligation to launch a mandatory tender offer in EDP Brasil in case of control acquisition, and other CTG's assumptions that support the Offer.

In terms of regulatory considerations, the EBD stated in its report that there are numerous regulatory conditions and authorizations which are required to be satisfied in order for the Offer to proceed. The time to obtain these authorizations, in addition to their natural uncertainty, could be significant and may affect the value realised as the Offer does not include any element to compensate for continuous incorporation of the expected dividend in the share price.

The regulatory authorization process may result in the Offer being subject to remedies and/or mitigation measures in different markets and segments. This may be most relevant in the United States business, where remedies and/or mitigation measures may be imposed by CFIUS/FERC. Given the significance of the US renewables platform to EDPR and to EDP in enabling the exposure to a leading global market and a source of long-term profitable, low-risk and sustainable growth, such an outcome could materially impact EDP's strategy and growth prospects. However, the EBD noted CTG's intention to seek EDP's management involvement and opinion regarding any specific conditions or arrangements that may be required.

In terms of creditors, the EBD Report notes that "CTG is committed to reducing leverage at EDP and ensuring that it maintains at least an investment grade rating in line with its present one" and that "the financial strategy to be adopted after the Offer will be aligned with the policy followed by EDP in the past years, by seeking financial cost reduction, maintaining an adequate working capital level and ensuring the compliance with all legal requirements". Finally, the EBD noted with respect to its future dividend policy CTG has stated in the Draft Prospectus that "such policy will be implemented taking into account and ensuring compliance with existing financial agreements ensuring compliance with existing financial agreements”.

Therefore, the EBD states in its report that it does not anticipate that the Offer will have a material impact over creditors. This view is based on the CTG commitment to reduce leverage and maintaining at least an investment grade rating in line with EDP’s present one.

If CTG attains control following the Offer, there are a number of contracts related to financing, Power Purchase Agreements and equity partnerships with change of control clauses that should be taken into consideration. Moreover, there are also other impacts that should be taken into consideration if mitigation measures or remedies are required.

For more information, see Section 2.6 Conditions to the launch of the Offer, Section 2.7 Conditions to effectiveness of the Offer, Section 3.3.1 Considerations on the intentions of the Offeror regarding EDP, Section 3.3.3 Key Regulatory Considerations and Section 3.3.4 Repercussions on interests of employees, clients, creditors and other stakeholders of EDP, namely subsection, Interests of the clients, suppliers, creditors and other stakeholders of EDP of the EBD Report, which has been incorporated by reference in the Base Prospectus."

Section D – Risks

Element	Title
D.2	Key risks regarding the Issuers	The key risks that are specific to the Issuers are as follows. Regulation: The EDP Group's operating results are highly affected by laws and regulations implemented by public entities in the various jurisdictions in which it operates. Changes to such laws and regulations may have an effect on concessions, licences and permits held by the EDP Group, taxes, levies and other charges to which it may be subject and also the development and profitability of energy projects. In addition, changes to environmental, health and safety laws and regulations to which EDP is subject that would result in them becoming more restrictive or less favourable, or if a stricter interpretation of current regulations were to be applied, this could lead to changes in EDP's operating conditions that might require additional capital expenditures, increase its operating costs or otherwise hinder the development of its business.

Element	Title
		EDP's cash flow is also subject to possible changes in the amounts and timings of the recovery of regulatory receivables from the energy systems. Competition and demand: EDP's profitability, in particular from its supply activities may be affected by significant changes in energy demand in each of the countries where it operates. In the Iberian Peninsula, electricity generation is subject to licensing by the competent authorities, which is carried out in a competitive environment. Consequently, new electricity generation power plants may be licensed to EDP's competitors in the markets where it operates, affecting the profitability of certain of its power plants. Furthermore, EDP may be unsuccessful in obtaining licences for the construction or operation of new power plants, and it could therefore be unable to increase or maintain its generation capacity or market share. EDP may also face competition from new entrants in the market and as a result of the transmission of electricity from regions with excess capacity or lower energy prices. The final adjustments of the costs for the maintenance of the contractual balance (“CMEC”) mechanism in relation to certain power plants in 2017, combined with improved electricity interconnections, could also increase competition in the market in which EDP operates. With respect to the development of wind power generation, EDP primarily faces competition in relation to bidding for or acquiring available sites and grid interconnection rights, and in setting prices for energy produced. In addition, the increase of competition in electricity and natural gas supply in liberalised markets in the Iberian Peninsula (where customers are free to choose their supplier) may reduce EDP's margins and reduce its ability to sell electricity and natural gas to value added final customers. Profit Margin: The selling price and gross profit per unit of energy sold by EDP may decline significantly due to a deterioration of market conditions. This may result from an adverse imbalance between supply and demand in the electricity and natural gas markets in which EDP operates, the performance of international and/or regional energy prices such as oil, natural gas, coal, CO2 allowances and green certificates, below-average rainfall or wind speed levels, higher cost of power plant construction, a change in the technological mix of installed generation capacity and administrative decisions imposed by legislative and regulatory authorities. In addition, certain of EDP's power plants in Portugal will cease to benefit from the stranded cost compensation mechanism provided for under the Portuguese CMEC legislation over time, which will result in such power plants becoming exposed to market prices and volatility. Although EDP currently uses and may use various financial and commodity hedging instruments as well as bilateral Power Purchase Agreements and long-term fuel supply agreements in order to mitigate market risks, there is no certainty that such strategies will successfully hedge all of these risks. Counterparty Risk: EDP is exposed to counterparty risk in some of its businesses such as its electricity and natural gas supply to final customers, its energy wholesale activities in the Iberian

Element	Title
		Peninsula and in international fuel markets, as well as its Power Purchasing Agreements in the United States, Italy, Belgium and Brazil. Counterparties may not comply with their contractual obligations, they may become subject to insolvency or liquidation proceedings during the term of the relevant contracts or the credit support received from such counterparties will be inadequate to cover EDP's losses in the event of its counterparty's failure to perform. Additionally, EDP's liquidity and financial position may be negatively affected if the creditworthiness of the financial institutions with which EDP cooperates in the course of its financial management changes significantly. Macroeconomic, Political and Social Climate: The global economy and the financial system have experienced a period of significant turbulence and uncertainty, including a very severe dislocation of the financial markets and stress to the sovereign debt and economies of certain European Union countries including Portugal and Spain where EDP has a relevant presence, also accompanied by recessionary conditions and trends in many economies throughout the European Union, including Portugal and Spain. EDP is not able to predict how the economic cycle is likely to develop in the short term or the coming years or whether there will be a deterioration of the economic situation globally or in Portugal, Spain or any other country where EDP operates. Additionally, the EDP Group is subject to risks associated with the instability of the political and social environment in each of the jurisdictions where it operates, which may adversely impact the continuity of business activities. Impact of climate changes: Climate changes may have a material adverse effect on the activities of EDP over the medium to long term. In particular, structural decreases in hydro inflows and/or wind load factors may have a significant impact on EDP's hydro and wind generation revenues. Finance: EDP's financial position may be adversely affected by a number of factors including restrictions on its ability to borrow from the capital markets and other lending sources and the cost of such borrowings which may be affected by changes to EDP's credit ratings and adverse market conditions and volatility in the global credit markets. EDP operates in a capital-intensive business and in particular has significant construction and capital expenditure requirements. The recovery of its capital investment occurs over a substantial period of time and in certain circumstances may not be recovered at all. EDP expects to finance a significant part of its capital expenditure from its operating activities. If it is unable to do so it may need to finance these expenditures from outside sources. It may not be possible to raise funds from outside sources on acceptable terms or at all leading to a reduction of its planned capital expenditures. Instruments issued by EDP B.V.: The Instruments issued by EDP B.V. are obligations of EDP B.V. and not of EDP. The Keep Well Agreement entered into between EDP and EDP B.V. is not a guarantee and EDP has no obligation to pay any amounts due under the Instruments issued by EDP B.V. Although under the terms of the Keep Well Agreement the Trustee may, on behalf of holders of any Instruments issued by EDP B.V., enforce EDP B.V.'s rights under that

Element	Title
		agreement against EDP to require it in certain circumstances to make available funds sufficient to enable EDP B.V. to meet its payment obligations, holders of Instruments issued by EDP B.V. do not have any direct rights against EDP. On-going investigation by the Portuguese authorities: EDP is subject to an on-going investigation by the Portuguese authorities relating to amounts due in connection with the early termination of certain Power Purchase Agreements ("PPAs") and the costs for the CMEC and payments made in connection with its rights in respect of the Public Hydro Domain ("DPH") concession. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, it is too early to determine whether the investigation will lead to any allegations of wrongdoing or any criminal or civil prosecutions. EDP does not accept any accusations of wrongdoing on its part or on the part of any member of the EDP Group and believes that the amounts due for the termination of PPAs under the CMEC and the amount paid for the DPH concession rights were fair and in compliance with market conditions and based on arm's length transactions. However, if the investigation would determine otherwise, there is a risk that members of EDP Group or of its corporate bodies could become subject to penalties or other sanctions. Any such developments could harm EDP's reputation, business, financial condition, and/or results of operations could be affected by the outcome of this investigation. EDP may in the future be subject to a change of control:⁹ Being the issuer of shares listed in a stock exchange, EDP may be the subject of a tender offer or the subject of any transaction resulting in one or more entities acquiring control of the majority of voting rights in EDP. On 11 May 2018, China Three Gorges (Europe) S.A. ("CTG") released a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and voluntary tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP (the "EDP Tender Offer" or "Offer") and a preliminary announcement for the launch of a general and mandatory tender offer for the acquisition of shares representing the share capital of EDP Renováveis. These announcements were amended in accordance with the terms of the addenda published on 16 May 2018. On 1 June 2018, EDP received a draft prospectus from CTG setting out the terms and conditions of the EDP Tender Offer (the "Draft Prospectus"). Following an analysis of the Draft Prospectus, on 9 June 2018, EDP published the report (the "EBD Report") of the Executive Board of Directors of EDP (the "EBD"). In the EBD Report, the EBD noted that its view was that the price offered does not adequately reflect the value of EDP and that the implied offer premium is low considering what is customary for European utilities where the offerors have acquired control. Therefore, the EBD cannot recommend that EDP's shareholders tender their shares at the alluded cash consideration of €3.26 per share. In the event of a successful tender offer or other event resulting in one or more entities obtaining control over the voting rights of EDP, EDP and EDP B.V. may be subject to a change of control. Even if the

Element	Title
		change of control provisions contained in Condition 7.5 apply to the Instruments, it may not necessarily afford holders of such Instruments protection as they would not have the right to require the Issuer to redeem the Instruments unless such change of control was also accompanied by a Rating Downgrade during the Change of Control period (each as defined herein). See "Terms and Conditions of the Instruments – Redemption and Purchase – Redemption at the option of the Holders (Investor Put on Change of Control)". In addition, upon completion of a change of control, a majority shareholder may have, directly or indirectly, the power to affect, among other things, the capital structure and the day-to-day operations of EDP and EDP B.V., as well as the ability to elect and change the management of EDP and EDP B.V. and the ability to approve other changes to the operations and strategies of EDP and EDP B.V., in each case, without the consent of holders of the Instruments. The EDP and EDP B.V. cannot foresee at this stage if a change of control will indeed occur and, if it does occur, if any consequences of any such change of control will adversely impact the interests of holders of the Instruments. For further information in respect of the tender offers by CTG, see "Recent Developments – CTG Offers".
D.3	Key risks regarding the Instruments	Changes in interest rates will affect the value of Instruments which bear interest at a fixed rate – if market rates increase above the rate paid on the Instrument, the value of the Instrument will be adversely affected. If the Issuers have the right to redeem any Instruments at their option, this may limit the market value of the Instruments concerned. During any period when the Issuers may elect to redeem the Instruments, and potentially prior to this period, the market value of the Instruments will generally not rise above the price at which they can be redeemed. Investors may also be unable to reinvest redemption proceeds at an effective yield as high as the yield on the Instruments being redeemed. Fixed/Floating Rate Instruments which bear interest at a rate that converts, at the option of the Issuer, from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or vice versa, may be issued under the Programme. If the Issuer elects to exercise such option, this will affect the secondary market and the market value of the Instruments, since the Issuers may be expected to convert the rate to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. This means that where the Issuers convert from a fixed rate to a floating rate, the spread on these Instruments may be less favourable than then prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Instruments tied to the same reference rate. The new floating rate may also be lower than the rates on other Instruments and where the Issuers convert from a floating rate to a fixed rate, the fixed rate may also be lower than then prevailing market rates. Instruments may be issued under the Programme at a substantial discount or premium to their principal amount and the market values of these Instruments tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for more conventional interest bearing securities.
