B. Update of the no significant change statement

As a result of the incorporation by reference in this Supplement of the EDP Financial Statements, paragraph 3 of the "General Information" section on page 203 of the Base Prospectus shall be deleted and replaced as follows:

"There has been no significant change in the financial performance of EDP, EDP B.V. or the EDP Group since 31 December 2019, and there has been no material adverse change in the prospects of EDP, EDP B.V. or the EDP Group since the date of their last published audited financial statements, being 31 December 2019."

C. Update to the Risk Factors

The following text is to be added at the end of the sub-section entitled "Risk Factors - Risks relating to EDP's operational activities business" on pages 13-17 of the Base Prospectus:

"EDP is exposed to natural disasters and other calamities. The occurrence of earthquakes, storms, extreme weather conditions, as well as health issues related to epidemic diseases, and any similar event, could materially impact EDP's business."

The occurrence of a disaster or other calamity could significantly affect EDP's operations and financial condition, both if it occurs in a country or region where EDP operates its business, or from which EDP sources materials and/or equipment and components that are essential for the operation, or required in the construction and development of, its power plants.

In particular, the recent outbreak of coronavirus that has spread globally is expected to adversely affect economic conditions and financial markets throughout the world. The outbreak may materially and negatively impact the global supply chain, markets and economies. It may also affect investment sentiment and result in heightened volatility and adverse conditions in global capital markets. In the short term, EDP may experience a decline in demand and power prices as well as delays or service disruptions in its operational activities should there be any breaks in its supply chains and/or the unavailability of its suppliers or employees. In such an environment, EDP may also face an increased risk of default by both its counterparties and clients. EDP's access to funding necessary for its business operations or investments may also be more limited and/or more expensive.

In addition, measures introduced by governments and regulators in the countries where EDP operates to mitigate the economic consequences of the coronavirus pandemic, including policies designed to maintain the continuity of energy generation, distribution and supply, financial assistance packages to temporarily "freeze" or suspend consumer bills and other policies and measures, could have a material adverse effect on the EDP Group's business and financial condition. Similarly, measures intended to halt the spread of coronavirus, such as restrictions on travel, transport or the prolonged closures of workplaces, may also materially impact the operations of the EDP Group.

Given the uncertainty around the lasting effect of the coronavirus outbreak, the longer-term impact on the global economy and, in turn, EDP's results of operations, cannot be determined. However, the outbreak could affect EDP's assets and portfolio (for example, by delaying the construction of its projects, delaying auctions for new concessions or the execution of its corporate strategy), processes (for example, by causing service disruptions among its critical suppliers), human resources (for example, illnesses may lead to health-related absenteeism which may, in turn, reduce productivity) and IT systems (for example, any failure from outsourcers may disrupt the level of maintenance and support available to EDP and its business activities). Any of these factors, individually or collectively, may adversely affect EDP's business, financial condition and operations."

D. Update to the description of EDP and the EDP Group

The following text is to be added to the "General and Supervisory Board" sub-section, after the third paragraph on page 163 of the Base Prospectus:

"On 24 December 2019, Yinsheng Li tendered his resignation as representative of China Three Gorges Brasil Energia Ltda. in the General and Supervisory Board and, on the same date, China Three Gorges Brasil Energia Ltda. informed EDP of the appointment of Li Li as its representative."

The following text is to be added at the end of the sub-section entitled "Recent Developments" on pages 176-177 of the Base Prospectus:

"In the last quarter of 2019, the EDP Group agreed to sell a company holding a portfolio of six large hydro plants in Portugal to a consortium of investors formed by Engie, Crédit Agricole Assurances and Mirova – Natixis Group. The disposed hydro portfolio comprises 1,689 MW of installed capacity in the Douro river basin (Miranda, Picote, Bemposta, Foz Tua, Baixo Sabor and Feiticeiro). The agreed transaction value is estimated around €2,210 million (with the exact equity value to be determined upon the conclusion of the transaction). The transaction is expected to be completed by the second half of 2020, following the fulfilment of the applicable corporate and regulatory conditions and aims at optimising EDP's portfolio, decreasing EDP's exposure to concentrated hydro volatility and merchant prices, reinforcing EDP's low business risk profile and improving financial leverage."
